WEALTH MANAGER MAGAZINE NAMES JEANIE WYATT, CFA
ONE OF THE TOP 50 WOMEN IN WEALTH MANAGEMENT

San Antonio, TX--The April issue of Wealth Manager Magazine named Jeanie Wyatt, the CEO & chief investment officer of South Texas Money Management, one of the Top 50 distinguished women in the wealth management industry.

Wealth Manager Magazine is a resource to aid investment advisors, brokers, and financial planners who manage assets for clients with high net worth. The publication's comprehensive coverage and columns are designed to assist advisors and planners build, sustain, and expand their practices.

The 50 Women who achieved this distinction did not just have the most assets under management or have the highest production numbers. Additional reasons for selection included contributions that the women have made to other women in their profession such as serving on committees and mentoring. The common denominator of all of the women chosen was that according to the editors of Wealth Manager Magazine, they will all serve as role models for the next generation of Women Advisors.

"It is an honor to be on this list," said Wyatt. "Investment Management is an exciting and challenging career and I feel that women can and do excel in this field."

About South Texas Money Management

South Texas Money Management was founded in late 2000 by Jeanie Wyatt, CFA, when she left an executive position at Cullen/Frost Bankers, Inc., a large, publicly traded regional Texas bank (NYSE-CFR) to form her own company. She believed there was a great need in the marketplace for her approach to managing assets. The core of her philosophy of stock investment is buying both value and growth stocks for the firm's client portfolios with the goal of allowing investors to participate in market cycles set by value or growth, but with less volatility.

Today, South Texas Money Management has over $1.6 billion in assets under management and offers investment advisory services to individuals, trusts, estates, employee benefits plans, and endowments. STMM has offices in San Antonio, Austin, and Houston to serve our clients. For more information, see www.stmmltd.com.
